RECEIFTS, Cust, &c.—The total receipts at the ports amount to 2,440,000 against 3,300,000 to the corresponding period last year, showing a deficit of 5,0,000. We have had, for several weeks at the Santh, very his irvers; all the upper streams have been navigable, affording opportunities for any remaining Cotton to the brought to the ports, and yet the receipts combine to fall off until they are reduced, as advised by telegraph, to a total of 10,000 bales IV week. I consider this fully proves the assertions maintained is this circular during the entire senson, that the receipts induced by tempting prices and free navigation, were being hurried to market more repulsy than in any former year. The prohable actual receipts at the ports during the remainder of the season will not exceed 60,000 bales. At any rate in season will not exceed 60,000 bales. At any rate it seems almost exertain that the total will not vary much from 2,050,000 bales.

o the character of the weather during the Summer and Aun, and the period of frust.

ton in Transith has also partaken of the dull feeling.

I have only two sales to report, both made yesterday, orting to about 1600 bales at a de line from previous howers do not offer enough, and holders generally preting their interest go forward rather than sell at a loss

ney market of that city:

Money is very easy on good notes and securities, and business is very dull, aithough some of the retail houses are having a better trade than last year. For what is known in the street as "first class" paper, the current rates are 7 to 71 $\Phi$ cent, and 8 $\Phi$ cent, a large range of paper is passed without difficulty. The banks are strong in credits and coin, and in some cases they have recently found some trouble in sustaining their loans. These instances, however, are exceptional. In general there is an ample supply of money, but a current demand sufficient to censume it. The only marked feature of the market since our last is the increased demand for New-York funds, or perhaps as marked feature of the market since our last is the in-creased demand for New-York funds, or perhaps as truly, the diminished supply. For some days consid-erable specie has left State street for Wall street, and it seems probable that exchange with New-York will continue unfavorable to this city for some time; if so bank specie has passed its maximum, and the money market, perhaps, has seen its easiest time, although there are no present indications of change for the worse. The mercantile calls for money are so limited that it can scarcely be high or active for some time. The comparative statement of the New-Orleans

In regard to Exchange, The New-Orleans Price Current, says:

For the past three days quite a fair inquiry has existed for clear bills on England, and large sales have been made at prices ranging from 9½ w 9½ and 9½ v cent, with occasional transactions of fancy and bank bills at 10 v cent prem. These prices show an advance on our previous figures. Bills on France have remained as last noticed. The demand is moderate and the offerings small. Time drafts on the North have improved somewhat in demand, and drawers yesterday obtained an advance of ½ v cent on our former figures, the market closing firmly, with but few bills offering, at 1½ v 1¼ and 1½ v cent dis., for A 1 to good and fair bills. Sight funds are without change; out-of-door bills ½ and bank checks ½ cent prem. (On Saturday and Monday large sales of bank checks were made from second-hand at ½ w 2 v cent prem.) WEDINGSON, June 3, 1857.

ASHES—The market is quiet for both kinds; sales of 45 bbls. at $7.875 for Pots and $7.20 $7.375 for Pearls.

BOOTS AND SHOES—Trade is stagmant compared with the usual briskness which has characterized this branch of business for the past few years, the country dealers seem to be well stocked, and the disposition with most dealers here and at the Eastward (with large supplies on hand) to press ales has materially bijured prices, so much so that this work must be sold at a loss. The recent fail in Leather is leading many manufacturers to launch out little deeper water, which, if we may be allowed to express an opinion from what we can learn from our daily intimisely with the trade, that their expectations of grick sales or to latinch out into desper ware, where the capters an opinion from what we can learn from our daily in-timacy with the trade, that their expectations of quick sales of libersal advancement will not be easily realized, as desires are forced to act with caution, as the payments of the greater par-of the country merchants have not been so far behind hand for a number of years past. Southern merchants excepted. The trade with California, compared with last year, shows a fulfiling off in the shipments of one-third, which will not tend to allevi-

BEEVES, MILKCOWS, VEAL CALVES, SWINE, SHEEP and LAMBS—the numbers received in the city every week, and selling prices; with general remarks, made up from personal observation, by Solon Robinson, expressly for Int. New-York Traintent every Wednesday evening—the great weekly market day of Buliocks at Allerton's (Washington Drove Yard). Fourty fourth street.

This Salks of Berg Cattle are made at a price agreed Phead—the value is calculated upon estimated weight of meat in the quarters. When Beef is quoted at 10c. Pt. 3 bullock that will dress & ewt. exclusive of hide and fat, brims $30. Beeves are mostly sold by "Cattle Brokers," who are regular counties ion selemen, who receive the stock and sell generally on credit to the butchers, charging the owners commission for sales and guaranty. The brokers also buy droves and sell on their own second. Drovers or farmers may be their own salesmen, the sales for cash for not realize as much as brokers' sless.

Veal Catves are seld by the pound, live weight, and generally for first quality, from $6 to 74c. second quality, 4 to 6c. $6.0.

M. Kittens'—that is, calves only two or three days old—are sold at so much $9 head—some of them at $1.250.82 A numm, or grass calves, four to six months old, range from $4 to $8 $9$ head.

Cows—As a general rule, the value of an ordinary Cow is governed by the grice of beef—estimating her weight, if fat, and adding a few dollars. Sometimes Cows sell very much higher head.

Covs—As a general rule, the value of an ordinary Cow is governed by the price of beef—estimating her weight, if fat, and adding a few dollars. Sometimes Cows sell very much higher than this, on account of fancy, or supposed or warranted and qualities. A first-rate Cow, of common stock, with a young calf, will ordinarily sell for #550 #55, and one extra fine, #75 # 100, while Cows of about average quality sell for #550 #55.

100, while Cows of about average quality sell for #530 #45 #55.

100, while Cows of about average quality sell for #530 #55.

250, #30, #32 and #35, varying according to the quickness of dulinces of the market, which will be noted each week, from #3 to #5s head, upon different grades.

Sinker and Lians are sold at a price arread $\Psi$ head—seldom by live weight. The value is estimated upon the supposed weight of mest and price of pelts. The price of common Sheep ranges from #2 301 #5 Lambs, early in the saxon, sell at prices equal to 20c, or 20c. $\Psi$ for the mest and through the season from #2 to #5 $\Psi$ head, or about 10c. $\Psi$ 15 for the mest. The Sheep Brokers' sales of Sheep and Lambs the past year show the following figures as average prices of droves: In January, $5.50$ #5.25 in April, $\Psi$ $2.50$ #5.25 in July, $2.50$ #5.55 in April, $5.50$ #5.25 in July, $2.50$ #5.55 in April, $5.50$ #5.25 in July, $2.50$ #5.55 in Cotobet, $2.50$ #7. Sheep are generally estimated to dress half their live weight.

Swink are mostly received by railroad from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky, and sold either by live weight or net weight ster they are dressed, or by estimate, as agreed. They are mostly sold before arriving or soon after, and driven direct to the slaughter pens. The sale-puts are at Allerton's, Bull's Head, Fourty fourth street, and at the Union Drove Yardsat the east end of Forty first street. For prices this week, see under head of "Swine."

The weather for the first week of Summer is genial, the day is clear and the sun shines warm, but there is the day is clear and the sun shines warm, but there is a coel breeze, and it is but little dusty, so that, so far as the weather can or does affect the business of the market, it must affect it favorably to-day for the sellers, and they fully enjoy the favor, and a complete recovery of the attack of "the bears" last week. As will be seen from our quotations, we have restored the figures of this day two weeks; and, in our opinion, which is backed by several of the most candid buyers and sellers, the average price of all the cattle in the yards te-day will be higher than it was then, because a larger proportion of them will be sold at the top figures, and but a very small proportion below 13 cents. and only now and then a choice one of the coarsest kind below 12 jc. Some of the cattle that were held over last week have sold to-day at $25 a head higher then was offered then, and many of them at $10 2 $15 a head kes than the owners would have sold them for. As we advised graziers last week, that prices were then lower than they would see them again till after grass-fed beef arrives, so we believe now, and should not be at all surprised to see an advance next week upon present rates. Without a large increase of receipts there certainly will be an advance; and, with all that are yet to come forward, we cannot see how there can be a reasonable hope of prices declining to any great extent. It is argued that there must be a large number of cattle held back at Albany, because the Central road brought down some 1,900 head since our last report. cars of Hudson River road:

Thirty head-by heats, 967.
Sold to Boston buyers. Let us see: out of that number we have here by the arrived too late to come down, and this will show at Albany to-day, 152 head that may come here next week, and we don't think a great many more than that will be found to be charged to the account of "stock held back for higher prices." There are a few hundred head grazing between here which are coarse and thin Illinois, common stock, not well fed, at an average of 124c, or over.

Henry Hard and J. Furchase bought 72 head of good fair Illinois Streers of Harris & Reed, at a price that affords a good profit at Stocke, a versaing $102a head.

Barney Bastram sold the tail of a drove that he had in the yards last week at 18c, that he could not there sell at 11c.

Wu. H. Hoffman has 44 ordinary still-fed and 20 common Illinois Stora, that will average about 74 cost and 13c.

Daniel Barnes is selling a dreve of fair Illinois stock at 13d. 14c, that he bought of McIntyre at Albany.

Miller Harling & Gerney have 30 real good fat beeves from the Waterville Distillery, owned by the same man that did not like to acknowledge the somership of the scalinoags sold by M. H. & G. last week. We hope he lost upon them and will make upon these, and thus will learn to deal only in good stock. This lot are estimated to average $110, which is 14c, $18b.

Jos. H. Williams is selling Mr. Henry's drove that he hadd over last week at an average, probably, upon true weights of 14c, which is 2c, higher than he could have averaged than. Some of them see very choice and none bad.

Geo. Ayranii has $9 selling for Lockman that he estimates at 71 cmt, and will sell at 14c, except a few at 13c. One iot at $122; one lot at $118, were all full 14c, hayers say some of them 14c.

Hoas & Sherman are selling a lot of good Ohio steers at 14c, and hold them stiff at that, and so do most of the aslessmen. It is 'take em or leave 'em' te-day, and the butchers all ac, knowledge themselves fairly oaught in their own trap—many of them highly have bought last week and saved in price more than they will make upon those they buy to-day. In fact it begins to he a serious question with some of them whether the most money is not to be made by stopping business at once. Some of them begin to anticipate the dimenty of selling meat that always accompanies "strawberry time," which, athough it may reduce the price of cattle, will not increase their p
